

The Second Part of the

Mystery of Fox-Craft

Introduced with about Thirty Quotations truly taken from the Quakers Books, and well attested by Men learned and Pious; proving all, and more than all the Charges in F. Bugg's Bomb of half a Sheet, which Mr. Talbot reprinted and sent to the Quakers at their General Meeting at Burlington in 1704, where he appointed time and place for them to meet him, and promised in F. B.'s stead to prove the said charges against them in the face of the Country. But they finding their Cause would not bear that Test, refused to meet him; but have at last published a bulky Book of 14 Sheets, entitled, The Bomb-Searcher, &c., therein denying themselves to be guilty, as by the Bomb charged.

But it is herein Proved,

- I. That the Bomb-Searcher (Caleb Pusey) and his Brethren who Approve his said Book, are Possesst with a Lying Spirit.
- II. That they make it their whole business to deceive.
- III. And that by their Denying, Excusing and Hiding their Blasphemous Notions and Doctrines they are Self-Condemed.
(And therefore I design that this shall end the Controversie between Them and Me.)

Concluded with a Post-script,

Proving the Impossibility of Reconciling Quakerism to Christianity, from the writings of Robert Barclay, the Quakers most learned Apologist.

By Daniel Leeds.

A Man that is an Heretick, after the first and second Admonition, Reject, knowing that he that is such, is subverted, and sinneth, being Condemed of himself, Tit. 3, 10, 11.

Printed and Sold by William Bradford at the Sign of the Bible in New-York, 1705.

The 2d Part of the Great Mystery of Fox-craft

The Quakers' Contempt of the Holy Scriptures, and Exalting their own Writings

THE distinction between Moral and Christian, the making holy life Legal, and faith in the History of Christ's outward manifestation, has been a deadly Poison these later ages have been infected with, to the destruction of godly Living. Quakerism a New Nick-name, pag. 6. W. Penn.

No Command in Scriptures is any further obliging upon any man, than as he finds a Conviction on his Conscience, pag. 71.

And their Gospel is Dust, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, which is the Letter—Feeding upon the Letter, which is Death, which feeds you Serpents, Dogs and Swine. Several papers, &c. by G. F. pag. 45, 46.

G. Fox charges Chr. Wade with Blasphemy for affirming that the Scriptures are the Word of God. Great Mystery, by G. F. pag. 246.

Note, G. Fox says of his own writings, Friends, to you all, this is the Word of the Lord, This is the Word of God. Several papers, pag. 60, 61, 62.

Their denial of the Trinity in a blasphemous manner.

WE need quote none but W. Penn to prove this, for the Quakers have plainly exprest by his mouth what they hold concerning the Trinity, who calls the Doctrine that God is One in Substance, but Three in Persons or Subsistences, an impertinent distinction, a most absurd Blasphemy; and calls this Trinity a Fiction. Sandy Foundation, pag. 12, 13.

Their denial of Jesus to be Christ the Son of God, and underbaluing his Person and Sufferings, &c.

THE seed of the Promise is an holy and spiritual Principle of Light, Life and Power, that being received into the heart u riseth the Serpent's head. And because the seed, which cannot be that Body, is Christ, as testifieth the Scriptures, &c. Christian Quaker, W. P. pag. 97, 98.

Christ, whose Person is above the Clouds, and a Christ within; but how provest thou two such Christs, says G. W. Truth defend. pag. 23.

Faith in a Christ without men, contrary to the Apostles' doctrine (says G. W.) pag. 65.

Christ's human Blood, or the Blood of his Humanity, the Apostle doth not tell us of, 1 Pet. 1. Christ's Blood is Spiritual (says G. W. pag. 66, 57.

The Light which every one hath, that cometh into the world, is sufficient to salvation without the help of any other means or discovery: To say otherways, is contrary to Christ, (says G. F. Great Mystery, pag. 47)

And they that professeth a Christ without them, have a Christ without them, and another Christ within them, here is two, &c. says G. F. p. 254.

If there be any other Christ but he that was crucified within, he is a false Christ. pag. 206.

The Devil was in thee [Christoph. Wade] and thou saith, thou art saved by Christ without thee, and so hast recorded thyself a Reprobate, &c. page 250.

Justification by the righteousness which Christ hath fulfilled in his own person, wholly without us; And boldly affirm'd [by W. Penn] in the name of the Lord, to be the Doctrine of Devils, and an arm of the sea of Corruption, that does now deluge the whole world. Serious Apol. by G. W. & W. P. p. 148.

But that the outward person [Jesus Christ] that suffered was properly the son of God, we utterly deny (says W. P. &c. pag. 146.)

W. Penn denies that Christ has made satisfaction for the sin of man, either as he was God, or as he was Man, or as he was God and Man, Sandy Foundation &c. pag. 20, 21.

The Apostles preached the Word nigh in the heart and mouth, so he did not preach a visible Christ with flesh and bones, as you do. Paul preached God that made the world, not far from every one; but you preach a visible man with flesh and bones, at a great distance above, where the stars are. W. Bayley's works, pag. 600.

For they [the disciples] loved his person for the sake of the frame and quality of the spirit that dwelt in him, or else what was his Person, being mean and contemptible, to them more than another person? Let none mistake, I do not slight it, nor the Person of any of his Brethren, &c. pag. 307.

It plainly appears that the sufferings of the People of God [Viz. Quakers] in this age is a Greater Suffering, and more unjust than in the days of Christ or of the Apostles, or in any time since—What was done to Christ was done by a Law, and in great part by the due execution of a Law. Edward Burroughs' works, pag. 273.

Of their denial and Contempt of the Ordinances.

I AFFIRM, by that one Scripture [Heb. 9. 10.] Circumcision is as much in force as Water Baptism, and the Paschal Lamb, as Bread and Wine; they were both shadows and both elementary, and perishable, And we can testify by the same Spirit by which Paul renounced Circumcision, that they are to be rejected, as not now required. Reas. against Railing, by W. P. pag. 108, 109.

Their pretence to Intallible Discerning, sinless Perfection and Equality with God

NEITHER have you [Priests] the Word of God in your hearts, nor Christ, which is Eternal and Infallible; all which the Quakers have to Judge Persons and things. Great Mystery, by G. F. pag. 5.

The Quakers have a spirit given beyond all the Forefathers since the days of the Apostles in the Apostacy, and they can discern who are Saints, who are Devils, and who Apostates without speaking ever a word, they that be in the power and life of truth. page 89.

G. Fox quotes his opponent, saying, Will a discerning of Gospel Mystrys prove a power to discern the state and condition of souls, what it shall be to all eternity. After some words G. F. Answers, So who are come up into the Bishop, Christ, they are one soul, they know the hand of God which the soul lives in (which is the power) and so knows it from Eternity to Eternity. And so ye Priests which do not discern the soul, and its state to Eternity, and from Eternity, ye are not in the Mistery of the Gospel, which gives liberty to it —And you five Priests have shamed yourselves that do not know the soul from Eternity to Eternity. pag. 229.

It is the Doctrine of Devils, that preacheth, that men shall have sin, and be in a Warfare, so long as they be on earth, pag. 101.

The Quakers are in the Power of God, and in the Authority of the Lamb, above all houses, and into houses creep not, but are UPON the Throne. p. 31.

For who comes to the spirit, and to Christ, comes to that which is perfect, who comes to the kingdom of heaven in then, comes to be Perfect, yea, to a perfect man, and that is above any degree. Great Mystery pag. 318.

G. Fox quotes his opponent saying, They cannot be perfect here or hereafter in Equality, but only in Quality. He answers; Christ makes no distinction in his words, but saith, Be ye perfect, even as your heavenly Father is, and be you merciful, as he is. And as he is, so are WE; and that which is perfect and merciful as he is perfect and merciful, is in Equality with the same thing, which is of God, and from him. Great Mystery pag. 282.

We, whose Names are underwritten, have at the request of Daniel Leeds, carefully examined the foregoing Quotations, and do testify That they exactly agree with the Books out of which they are taken.

Samuel Myles,	} Missionarys.	Æneas McKenzie,	} Missionarys
Evan Evans,		George Ross,
John Talbot,		George Muirson,
Tho. Crawford,		Thor. Moore.

Note, I could bring three hundred Quotations, of these and such like Heresies, as their denying the Resurrection of the Body that dyes. Their denying The future Judgment, The locality of Heaven and Hell, &c. But my design is to be compendious and short, as more suiting this time of day, Mankind inclining rather to converse with the living than the dead; for long discourses of Controversy of this nature are become tedious, as I see by C. Pussey's books, which have therefore exchanged the Monthly Meeting for the Tobacco Shop.

Besides, The Author of the Snake, &c. has effectually handled this Controversie, and mortally wounded the ill-shaped Brood of their monstrous Heresies, so that my doing any thing of this kind would have been needless if the works of that worthy Author were as easie to come at in these parts; therefore I come briefly to the matter.

The Bomb searcher, pag. 9. Before he begins with the charges he takes up the last thing in the bomb to answer first, which is a harmless word of Mr. Talbot's, who had called F. Bugg, HONEST Francis. But this they cannot bear: What! call him Honest whom they say is a Devil Incarnate? This is unsufferable. Therefore C. P. musters up his forces to prove F. Bugg dishonest, the sum of which is this: That whereas he the said F. B. having obliged himself to give his Daughter a Portion and his Wife a Joynture, but finding himself in debt, could not perform his obligation to his Wife and Daughter, but honestly sold his estate to pay his debts. Behold, what bad luck Friend Caleb has: Sure his Wits were in his Mill-hopper when he brought this to prove F. B. dishonest; for this proves him to be of an honest mind. Nay, but hold, the Quakers know he is a very Devil, for he writes against them, and they have the spirit of discerning [as you see before] G. F. says, They can discern who are Devils, and who Saints without speaking a word. But have they not as bad luck here too? is not G. F. a deceiver in saying this? Yes, verily for Fox himself did not discern his intimate friend Ezekiel Woolley, at whose house he used to lodge in London, till it was told to George, that he the said Woolley, had got his Neighbour, the Watch-maker's Wife, with child.

Next comes a matter of weight and seriousness, S. Eccles had said, That the Blood of Christ was no more than the Blood of another Saint; and C. Atkins said, They [the Quakers] deny our imagined God above the stars. As to the first of these, C. P. says, G. W. has disowned, and therefore calls it inveterate hatred in us to quote it again.

Ans. This is a piece of Fox-Craft in C. P. yea, great deceit; For G. W. does not disown it, but contrary ways, makes an ungodly defence it of in his Book, Light and Life, pag. 58. [which page he entitles, The Blood of the New Covenant spiritual] where he argues, "That the blood outwardly shed by wicked hands, was not the Blood or Life of Christ; for (says he) 'tis not in being; and therefore renders him a dead Christ." Thus Blasphemously does he defend this very expression of S. Eccles, instead of drowning or denying the original is illegible.

Note, I have this Book of G. W. by me, to shew to all that doubt of the truth of it; in which Book G. W. indeed speaks highly of what they call their spiritual Blood of their Christ or Light within. But [as you see before] he rejects the human Blood of Christ. G. Fox says, Christ in the Male and Female is the seed, and the seed Christ—And the Blood of the seed cleanseth from sin, Gr. Mystery pag. 299, 281. And this seed W. P. denys to be the Person born of the Virgin, but says, 'tis a principle of Light in man [as you see before] so that 'tis this imagined inward Blood and not the human Blood, that C. P. also means; by which he deceives the unwary Reader: Therefore he ought to make publick satisfaction for offering both by a lye and Jesuitical meaning thus to betray the ignorant and simple hearted into this blasphemous notion of the Blood of Christ.

But Secondly, As to C. A.'s denying the imagined God above the Stars, C. P. says, They have disowned both the passage and the Author. But this also is a piece of Fox-Craft; for they do not disown the same Doctrine, (as you see before) W. B. asserts the very same Doctrine, which the Quakers own and Justify. They did indeed disown the said Atkins after he was hanged for felony, and I never heard they disowned him before; for they owned him after he had lain with Simons his Maid in Norwich Gaol, because he confest the fact; for he continued a travelling Preacher afterwards. But this Bomb-Searcher would make his Reader believe that they disown'd Atkins because of that doctrine; which is deceit, and still confirms F. B.'s Charge, That the Quaker-Writers and Preachers make it their whole business to deceive.

Now before we come to the Charges in the Bomb, I take notice the Quakers in pag. 6. of the Preface, confess, That if we can prove those Charges, they own themselves neither fit for Religious nor Civil Societies. Tho' this be a meer vaunt, a sham, and they intend it for nothing else but Mockery; yet they are hereby manifestly Self-Judged and Self-Condemn'd; for they know that not only these, but many more as erroneous Charges has been often proved upon them, so as that they never dare venture to refer the cause between them and their Adversaries to indifferent men.

He enters, pag. 14. upon the first charge of their Contempt of the holy Scriptures, which is fully proved in the Quotations, page 2, 3 for though I have not now the books by me that calls them Beastly Ware, an Idol, &c. yet to call faith in the history of Christ's Manifestation (viz. the New Testament) a deadly Poison, as W. P. does; This I take to be as great a contempt as can be put upon the Scriptures.

But here C. P. to defend or excuse their Rage against the Scriptures, says That G. F. said that a Priest said, that the Letter of the Scripture is God. But I cannot think that the Quakers heartily believe that this is not a lye of their Fox. For they know full well, that there has been many Proofs brought (not only by others, but some by me) shewing that it was his constant practice to abuse and bely the Books and Sayings of his Opponents. And the Quakers in their Answers to those proofs, have not yet offered to disprove one of them, and yet they will insist upon this, which tho' it looks like a loud lye, yet they know we cannot disprove it, because Fox quotes no man's Book for it.

But suppose that some madman or other had said the letter of the Scripture is God, does this justify Fox in calling them Serpents' Meat, &c. and yet call his own Writings The Word of God? Friend Caleb seems here to be got into a vein of Jestings or Comical dissimulation; for he would have it that 'tis only the Ink and Paper, the Letter that they quarrel at, as if their own Books were not made of Paper and Letter as well as the Bible. But Fox says, Feeding upon the Letter, which is Death, which feeds you Serpents, Dogs and Swine. Now they know that no man eats the Ink and Paper, but 'tis the Doctrine they feed on; and therefore this still shews their design is only to deceive. I have shewed in this year's Almanack from matter of fact, that they still hold the same Opinion of the Scriptures, even while with the next breath they will say, they believe them of divine Authority.

Secondly, Their blasphemous denial of the holy Trinity is plain pag. 2, 3. whereby the Quakers excluded themselves from being Protestant Dissenters; they can have no benefit of the Act of toleration that denys the Trinity of three Persons in the God-head, as it is declared in the 39 Articles [which every true Quaker does deny] And this the last page of that Law expressly declares.

Thirdly, That they deny Jesus to be Christ the Son of God, this is proved by almost every Quotation on that head at pag. 3. And yet this Bomb-Searcher has the impudence to say this is an abominable, a notorious falsehood and brings long quotations to prove the contrary. But here lies a Snake in the Grass, as I shall discover anon, and that there is need of large railing, to hide their vile Opinion on this point.

Fourthly, Their neglect and contempt of the Ordinances is shewed but short in pag. 3 because their practice proves it without Quotations. But if they are not content with this, they may look in News out of the North, pag. 4 where Fox calls Baptism and Christ's Ordinance, the Sacrifice of Cain. And pag. 14. what the Apostle calls the Table and Cup of the Lord, 1 Cor. 10. 21. Fox calls, The Table of Devils, and Cup of Devils.

Fifthly, That they undervalue the sufferings of Christ, by affirming their own sufferings to be greater and more unjust. This is plainly said at pag. 3. and is not denied, but excused by this Bomb-Searcher.

The Sixth Charge being proved in the first, I'll say no more of it, seeing he is silent in it.

Thus these Charges in the Bomb are briefly, yet fully proved by the Quotations before, Notwithstanding the great noisy long Preachments and railing in the Bomb-Searcher to drive his Reader from the scent to those vile errors. But there is need of it for that purpose.

I shall now for confirmation, enlarge a little upon their denial of Christ, and their Arts to hide their monstrous notion of him.

The Quakers having rejected the outward Christ and his Blood as having no faith therein, but only in what they call their Christ or Light within and place Salvation there, and in the Blood of this Light within, as is before shewed; which coming to be publickly noted, lookt so odious and Antichristian, that they, (to avoid the odium) have Jumpt into tricks and arts of the antient Hereticks, to deceive by double meanings, viz. to make seeming Christian Confessions, but mean not a word of it, as Christians mean. They own a Personal Christ, and a man Christ without them, but mean it only of what they call the Light within all men, which they say is without them also of T. Ellwood in pag. 97. of his answer to G. Keith's Nar. is as plain in this as any of them. Christ was truly man (says he) before he appeared in the outward Body, and that not only in his People, but out of or without them also; How long before? Even from the beginning (says he) so W. P. denys that Person born of a Virgin to be the seed promised, Gen. 3. But says 'tis a principle of Light in the heart, (as you see before.) Thus the Quakers' Christ was a Man not only before he was made of a Woman, but even before any woman in the world was made. This is new doctrine, and is their foundation Error, whereon they build all the rest, and whoever will take the pains to read G. Fox's Great Mystery, pag. 246, 249, 205, 211. will there see that nothing will serve him but for the Light within to be whole Christ, God and Man, Flesh, Body, Blood and Bones, and denys that Christ has any Body that is absent from his people, and is now in the presence of his Father in Heaven without them; where he also holds, That 'twas God the Father that was born of the Virgin, or took human Nature.

I have this Great Mystery by me, and would gladly shew it to all who doubt of the truth of these Things.

Now to discover the Snake aforesaid, you must note the Quakers have many times been urged and provoked to let the world know whether they believe in a Christ without them, now in heaven, and whether they believe Christ is now and forever to come really a Man, in true and proper human Nature without all other men? But they would never answer Yea, to these Queries; but go round about 'em, and on every side, and seem to confess all and much more, and yet mean nothing but to deceive. Thus this Bomb-Searcher, pag. 27 of the last part of his Book, to the first Query [Do you believe in a Christ without you, &c] says, if we mean that Christ is in heaven without us, as to his outward personal presence, and in us by his spiritual appearance, it is their faith, as well as ours.

Now observe, the deceit of these sincere Quakers. The Query is not whether they believe Christ is in heaven without them (tho' even this they do not believe, but in their meaning aforesaid) But the Query is, Do you believe IN a Christ without you, &c. (viz. believe to be saved by a Christ without you) This was the Query, and here it is that he deceives his unwary Reader, by hiding his head in a hole, like a Woodcock, and thinks nobody sees him; he might have spared his long preachments of Quotations (full of such deceit as this) that he there brings from their Books to prove that they can say Yea to those Queries, as well as we; for only these three simple Letters YEA, honestly exprest, would have done it, without all this. O but then they are sensible it would have given the lye to their former Doctrine before quoted, which they say, is their faith still, viz. That faith in Christ without man is contrary to the Apostles' doctrine. And that the outward Christ is not the proper Son of God. And that Christ without is the false Christ. And that they are reprobates that say they are saved by Christ without them. And much more to the same tune, which they must disown if ever they come to own Christianity.

But in short; their Disobedience to the Commands and Ordinances of the outward Christ is sufficient without Quotations to prove that they deny him. For they cannot shew wherein they obey so much as one command of Christ, any more then the Jews do, who also deny him.

Nay, I could shew wherein the Jews own more of Christ then the Quakers own; for the Quakers would make nothing of Christ but moral virtues. What is Christ (says W Penn) but Meekness, Justice, Mercy, Patience, &c. Address to Protestants, pag. 119. where also he declares moral men to be Christians; and you see before, he calls it a deadly Poison to make any distinction between Christian and Moral. Thus the Quakers are forced upon this shift to allow moral heathens, Turks and Jews to be Christians, because they have no other way in the world to prove themselves Christians; there is only this difference, the Jews and Infidels are the better, as being more free from deceit, because they make no pretence to Christianity, and the Quakers do.

But how strange is their delusion, who cannot see that at this rate there was no need at all of the holy Apostles being sent to the Jews and Heathens to preach the Gospel of Peace and Salvation by Christ crucified. Nor indeed could there be any need of Christ's coming, and being crucified. But the Quakers plainly say as much, for their Books tell us that his coming in the flesh, and being crucified was but a figure, and for our example, as I have formerly shewed.

Lastly, Why will this Bomb-Searcher so dissemble as to imitate the Christian in owning (as before) that Christ is personally without us, and in us by his spiritual influence, seeing in their Books they call it nonsense? Christ or the Spirit in his people, the beams of Christ without us, is nonsense, so G. Whitehead, Light and Life, pag. 26. I say, why will he thus make it his business to deceive in every thing?

An Appendix, with some Gleanings

I Shall in the first place insert a large Quotation from W. Penn's Sandy Foundation (before Quoted for their denial of the Trinity) being a precious Book with the Quakers, which was wrote against the Trinity, and Christ's satisfaction, which Book they now keep up in England, for fear of the Law and outward Powers; But here, having the power in their own hands, they are bold with it; and as if they would bid defiance to the Law, as well as to Christianity, they direct (pag. 76) where 'tis publickly to be seen at Philadelphia, and recommend it to be read by sober persons; wherefore to shew further of the arts used by these Quakers, for the destruction of Christianity, I also recommend to every considerate Reader what here followes, truly quoted out of that Book.

Sandy Foundation, pag. 16, 20, 21, 22. He begins, pag. 16, thus; "The vulgar Doctrine of Satisfaction, dependent on the second person of the imagined Trinity, Refuted, &c.

Note, Then he goes on some pages to refute it, and brings his reasons to prove that Jesus Christ did not make satisfaction to God for our sins. And in pag. 20, he calls this following an Absurdity, viz.

I. "That the Finite and Impotent Creature is more capable of extending mercy & forgiveness than the Infinite & Omnipotent Creator—For admitting God to be a Creditor (says he) or he to whom the Debt should be paid, and Christ he that pays it on the behalf of man, the Debtor, the Question will arise, Whether he paid the debt, as God or Man, or both?

Not as God, (says he.)

II. "Because if Christ pays the debt as God, then the Father and Spirit being God, they also pay the debt.

Not as Man, (says he)

III. "The Justice offending being infinite, his satisfaction ought to bear a proportion therewith, which Jesus Christ, as Man, could never pay, he being FINITE, and from a finite cause could not proceed an infinite effect; for so man may be said to bring forth God.

Not as God and Man

IV. “For where two Mediums or Middle Proportions are singly inconsistent with the nature of the end for which they were at first propounded, their Conjunction does rather augment than lessen the difficulty of its accomplishment.

V. “But Admitting one of these three Mediums possible for the payment of an infinite debt, yet pray observe, the most unworthy and ridiculous consequences that will attend the impossibility of God’s pardoning sinners without a satisfaction.

VI. “Since Christ could not pay what was not his own [debt] it follows that in the payment of his own, the case still remains equally grievous, since the debt is not hereby absolved or forgiven, but transferred only, and by consequence we are no better provided for salvation than before, owing that now to the Son which was once owing to the Father.” Thus William Penn, with much more to the same purpose.

Now I desire to observe three things from the Quotation: First, We see he denies that Christ either did or could pay our Debt, or make satisfaction to God for man’s sin; which is horrible to think on; Yea, he argues expressly against any sort of satisfaction made by Christ for our sins, as a thing Ridiculous and Non-sence, as every reader may see.

Secondly, In pag. 62, I find this Bomb-Searcher puffing out a bag of wind at me (as his term is) for adding the word [Debt] to W. P’s last Paragraph between the Crotchets. But it being nine years since I wrote that Book he mentions, I know not whether I added the word or took it so from another impression of W. P’s however, now I own I have added it, and here offer to stand or fall by the Judgment of all good Christians, whether I have done ill therein or not; yea, let any Quaker shew, if he can, wherein it alters the sence of the passage—I say, it does not: 'tis as blasphemous without it as with it; So all to whom I have shewed it, say that W. P.'s words bear the same sense either with or without that word [Debt] 'Tis only more plain with the word Debt, to mean capacities. For 'tis nothing else but the Debt of our sins that W. P. there treats on. And Christ did pay a Debt that was not his own, but ours, otherwise we had perished eternally: This is Christianity, contrary to W. P.'s Anti-Christian Notion That Christ could not pay what was not his own. And I would desire the Quakers to tell in their next print, What it was that Christ was to pay, or did pay, of his own, as W. Ps. there words it (seeing he denys that he paid any thing for us) and why they were so civil as not to say a word to that other agreeable passage which I quoted from R. Hubert-horn's works, pag. 20. where he affirms Christ was capable of Repentance. This they thought was easiest answered by silence. But pray tell us what had Christ to repent if, or what did Christ owe to God of his own? And whether these sayings do not smell too rank of blasphemy with good Christians, though by deceitful Arts you may hide it from your Followers?

But tho' C. P. spends several pages to Banter me for adding this word [Debt] yet within four pages he himself is guilty of the same thing, viz. of adding words to a passage of W. P.'s and that to alter the sence too, as I shall shew next page hereafter.

Thirdly, Observe, that I have several times printed that W. P. in his Sandy Foundation terms Christ as Man, A FINITE IMPOTENT CREATURE; But C. Pusey in his Book, Satan's Harbinger, pag. 31 boldly denys it, in these words, I do affirm there is no such saying or Irreverent Expression in the whole Book of W. P.'s, No, neither Expressly nor Implicitly, not so much as Consequentially. Note, These are his words; therefore I intreat the Reader to look back to page 10, where Finite Impotent Creature is expressly and n pag. 10, line 25 he affirms the same implicitly and consequentially and in part expressly too, in these words, Which JESUS CHRIST as Man, could never pay, he BEING FINITE. Note, here he implies that Christ was too weak, too impotent to make infinite satisfaction, he being Finite; And a man that is Finite, is consequentially a Creature. Now since it appears that W. P. does say it Implicitly and Consequentially and [at least] in part Expressly too; and yet C. P. denies it to be said any of these three ways, he ought therefore to make Publick satisfaction for this wretched Abuse, this double Falsehood, especially seeing I have more then once in print offered to make this very Passage as the touch stone of Tryal between his writings and mine, that if four or six indifferent men judge it to be as he says, I would burn my Books, or what else those men should assign me to do. But if they found it as I say, he should do the like. This, I say, I have offered, but could never bring him to it. And yet is he so shameless, as still to assert the same thing against me, and call on me for satisfaction for abusing W. Penn.

Now I come to pag. 66. where I find C. P. guilty of the same thing whereof he accuseth me but just before, viz. he adds a word to that Passage of W. P. before quoted in Quakerism a New Nick, pag. 6. for he makes it run thus, Faith in the History of Christ's outward Manifestation [Christianity] has been a deadly poison, &c. The word [Christianity] he adds, and says it should be so by the Table of Errata, which made me look into that Table, but there is no such direction there, as all may see who have that book: therefore this is falsehood and deceit, such as his Friend G. Whitehead seems to be ashamed to act; for I look upon G. W. to have twice the wit of C. P. for deceit, yet he in his Book, Truth and Innocency, pag. 54. vindicates this Passage of W. P. as it is, without adding the word [Christianity] he was more honest than this Bomb-Searcher, for he found no need of it. But C. P. goes on till he also thrusts in the word [only] and now 'tis pretty handsomely drest, and runs thus, Making faith [only] in the history of Christ [Christianity] has been a deadly poison. And now forsooth, W. P. and St. Paul are fit company, and both of a mind. W. P. is not without good Company (says he) for he has Paul on his side. And to prove that St. Paul says the same with W. P. he quotes Rom. 1:8 and 8:13. Your faith hath been spoken of throughout the world; If ye live after the flesh ye shall dye; but if ye mortify the deeds of the body by the Spirit, ye shall live. Behold! are not his Wits got again into his Mill-Hopper? for are these words of St. Paul anything like that doctrine of W. P.? O miserable shift! to defend their vile stuff, rather then confess and repent!

Note, he calls on me for satisfaction, because the word [Debt] was added, as aforesaid, though between Crotchets, only to make the passage more intelligible to mean readers. But let him give satisfaction for adding those words on purpose to alter W. P.'s sence, tho' he has mist of his purpose; for let him take it as he has mended it, yet the making faith [only] in the history of Christ [Christianity] cannot be a deadly poison; I am sure no true Christian dare say it.

But this Bomb-Searcher is Jack on both sides, for as here he adds words, so I find (in pag. 8 of the last part of his book) he takes words out of a passage of G. Fox, where G. F. says, He that hath the same Spirit that raised Jesus from the dead, is equal with God. Now Friend Caleb is for leaving out the words [he that hath] so then it runs thus, The same spirit that raised Jesus, is equal with God, which is all one as to say, God is equal to God. This he makes to the size of G. F.'s Divinity, viz. to teach the Christian World, that God was equal to God.

Well, seeing C. P. has so good a hand at mincing and mending blasphemy, there is just such another piece of work for him to mend of the same G. F.'s—'tis in the last quotation, page 4. upon that Text, Be ye perfect, as your heavenly Father is. And [says Fox] as he is, so are WE, and that which is perfect as he is perfect, is in Equality, &c.

Now 'tis but taking off the first six words [as he is, so are we] and then it will run thus [That which is perfect as he is, is in Equality,] &c. And so 'tis as cleverly mended as that before, and is just as good sense. Or if he be disposed to make his reader merry by mending it any other way, we will not only hear him, but also help him to more such jobs of work, which by that time he has finished, we hope to see the Quakers' proud imagination of a sinless perfection and Equality with God to tumble down apace.

In pag. 72. I find he is still washing the Blackemore white, viz. he would clear the Quakers from that vile Contempt of the holy Bible, in a passage brought against it by Jos. Coal, viz. "How deplorable a thing is it (says he) to see such hypocritical intruders (viz. Protestant Ministers) stand in a Pulpit with such a brazen-faced book as is their unjust corrupt and perverse Bible in their hands."

Note, here J. C. in the first place (and then the other Quakers who again reprinted it since J. C.'s death) joyns with the most profane Papist thus to blaspheme our Bible. For in page 40 Coal declares positively, That it does not concern him to answer it. No, he brings it as an Arrow from the Papists' Quiver, and shoots it at the Bible, and then leaves it to the Protestants to think what they please of it. And yet they would seem now to be ashamed of it, but will not blame their Prophet J. C. and the other Quakers for several times printing it against our Ministers and the Bible, which still shews they only design to deceive.

I Now come to the last part of his Book, being his Reply to the Mystery of Fox-Craft, and find in page 6. that he says, G. Fox did not assume to himself the compiling of that Book called The Battledoor of the interpretation of about thirty Languages, but that it was J. Stubs and B. Furley that put G. Fox's Name to the several pages of that Book.

Note, this still confirms & discovers it to be a Cheat put upon the World; for else why should another man put his Name to what he is not the Author of, nor does not understand? Thus it comes out by little and little; for it being found out that Fox had not the gift of Tongues, as the poor Quakers to my certain knowledge (I for one) were made to believe; he is therefore forced to this half confession, that tho' Fox did it not, yet that it was done however by the Quakers, i. e., Stubs and Furley. But this is also a cheat or lye, for they hired a Jew to do the greatest part of it, or procure it to be done, and gave him eighty Pounds in Money for his pains, and there was also twelve bottles of Wine given over and above to make the Jew and his associates drink. And here the Fox is found out in his silly craft in preaching down the Wisdom and learning of the world, and yet deceitfully made use of it to raise his own fame.

In page 14 he finds a real fault in my Book the date of the year of the dispute of G. F. is printed 1699 instead of 1659 so in my this year's Almanack John Bennit is printed for John Hilliard which are escapes of the Press, and C. P's books are incident thereto as well as mine.

In the same page he brings on the Oath of Abjuration, by which the Quakers of the Council and Assembly of New Jersey engaged to Lord Cornbury to defend the Queen and her Successors to the utmost of their power against all their Enemies, and that as defend is commonly understood, too; and yet, at the same time declared they could neither fight nor pay towards it, i. e., neither do it in Person nor Estate.

Now I desired him to tell me how the Quakers could do this, and promised him a reward if he could tell me; But I find it has driven him into a Net. He says, page 15, he is no way obliged to tell me how. No. he is not obliged; Why? because he nor all the Quakers in the world have not art enough to do it. And thus they are confounded, being self condemned.

And whereas I had shewed how binding and positive the Act of Abjuration was made, and the Quakers had made a Proviso to make it all void, therefore he argues that they (the Quakers) do in that no more then is common for Kings and Parliaments, to do [No, they have done no more] For he says, Kings, Parliaments, &c. often in their Laws, after positive commandings, make particular provisos for mitigating, &c. Note, Here they must set themselves up tantamount with Kings and Parliaments, and because the Queen and Parliament had made no proviso in that Law, therefore the Quakers may do it. Why? because 'tis common for Kings, &c. to do it. This shews the height of the sphere wherein these Saints imagine themselves to move, even to be Controulers of the Laws of Kings and Parliaments, at least here they wou'd be, and this they have declared to be their Right and Heirship, as I have else where shewed.

His insinuating That I have broke my Oath, as a Councillor, in publishing it and that the Governour is concern'd to take notice of me. That is, my printing how the Quakers had taken this Abjuration Oath, which was done in the face of Country and Coffee-House News the same week, he would have to be a breaking my Oath as a Councillor. This only bewrays the persecuting spirit; it will shew its grinning Teeth sometimes. I pray God keep them from having power to bite me as they did poor Banks, one of their Opposers, who they catcht carrying his goods on horses through Pennsylvania, and cast him into Philadelphia Prison, and took his Goods from him, even his whole estate.

Next, comes on their Reply to what I asserted, how some Quakers near Burlington took up arms on a report that a party of French were near. And they bring long certificates confessing & denying the matter, as if they were mumbling of thistles. And tho' they quibble, and are in some things Comical, intimating that their Guns and other Weapons that they carried were only to scare folk, and to hurt nobody, and that they fight only with spiritual weapons, &c. yet because they deny not the thing in substance, as charged, and having spoke to it in my Almanack, I therefore dismiss this head, with only giving a quotation from the great Fox himself, shewing what they intended against worldly Powers, when time serves, viz.

“Sound the Trumpet, Sound an Alarm, call up to the Battle, gather together for destruction, draw the Sword, hew down all fruitless Trees that cumber the ground, hew down all false Justice, which is not Justice; hew down all the Powers of the earth, cleanse the land from all filthiness, purge from the dross, the filth and corruption, slay Baal, Baalam must be slain, and all the Hirelings turned out of the Kingdom, who have pretended that God sent them; the Sword of the Lord is drawn against you all, Wo and Misery to all ye Priests, ye blind Priests.” See News out of the North, page 31, 32. 1654.

Note, Some may say, here is bloody work, had it gone on, and Oliver turned Quaker. But let us not mistake, did they not mean all this to be Spiritual, and Spiritual Weapons?

I Answer; No; for in page 19, the Interpretation is plain “So you must be cut down (says Fox) with the same Power that cut down the King (meaning K. Charles 1) who reigned over the Nations, whose Family was a nursery for Papists and Bishops, &c.” Therefore I hope they will not say the Executioner was all Spirit, he had also flesh and bones; nor that the Block was a Spirit, nor the Ax a Spirit.

Next, as to Magistracy, which they ever accounted a cumbersome Tree, and therefore hear what they intend against it, pag. 20.

“Sing all ye Saints (viz. Quakers; for none else will have cause to sing). Clap your hands and be glad, for the Lord Jehovah will reign; And the Government shall be taken from you pretended Rulers, Judges, Justices, Lawyers and Constables; all this Tree must be cut down,” &c. If you ask, By what power? The answer is ready, pag. 19. “So you must be cut down by the same Power that cut down the King, who reigned over the Nation,” &c.

Note, This may be compared with what I have (in print) formerly shewed how that their chief Prophets have asserted the Right and Heirship of the Quakers to all the Kingdoms and Dominions under the whole Heavens, and that their King (the Light within) may Command them to fight for it, though they say, they believe he will not yet make use of them in that way, not for the present.

In pag. 21 he begins to muster up a troop of falsehoods against me, every one of which returns upon his own head. As for instance, I had said, pag. 5, of Mystery of Fox-Craft, That we see by G. Fox's first letter, he could not write the date of the year. Now this C. P. says is false but I will let the Reader see 'tis true; for that which Fox writes for the date of the year is this 1—9.* Here let all men judge whether it does not appear by this that Fox did not know how to write the date of the year. Now when this Bomb-Searcher has made me satisfaction for this abuse, I will shew him. wherein he is as false in every one of the rest; for to what edification can it be to make Replies to such a profuse Scribler, to such inconsiderable Lyes? But this is his method throughout, as if he were possest with the Spirit of Baal's two lying Prophets.

I had told him how he copyed after the London Quakers, in his answers to me; Therefore that he may make a Book of something, he writes several pages to shew that I have also copyed after the Author of the Snake, G. K. &c. Alas for him! have I not told him that I cannot do better than to follow the example of good men. But for a Quaker to copy after other men is Conjuration, by their own doctrine; for G. F. in Saul's Errand, pag. 7. says, What is not spoken from the mouth of God, is Conjuration. Therefore if he had nowhere copyed after others (as I would shew he has, if it would edify) yet he is still as much a Conjurer, if he all has written be not immediately from the mouth of God; and that it is not I have sufficiently shewed, unless from the mouth of the God of lyes. And thus this Conjuror employs his time to set up a man of straw, that he may have something to fight against.

In the Margent of the Mystery of Fox-Craft, pag. 4 there is a touch of the uncleanness of their Preachers; therefore to be even with us he tells me, pag. 21, that if it was their way, they could also calumniate some Clergymen among us for Miscarriages (and then instances Rhode-Island Minister) But thanks his God, that has taught them otherways. Behold the deceit, the confusion of this; for here even with the same breath he throws a secret calumny on a Rhode-Island Minister, and yet says, 'tis not their way, their God has taught them otherways. This shews what sort of a God it is that has taught them, even the God of lyes.

But by the way, let me tell these Quakers. That the Clergy and Quaker-Preachers are under different Circumstances: The Clergy know themselves (and ALL men) to be frail sinners, often drawn by Temptations into sin, and therefore find a continual need of praying to God for pardon, upon repentance. But this the Quaker-Preachers disclaim, they are too proud. W. Penn mocks at our Liturgy for having a confession of sin in it. And you see before that G. F. calls it the doctrine of Devils to acknowledge a being in a warfare while we be on earth; Nay, he declares, That they (the Quakers) are Perfect in Equality with God (as you see before) This is a desperate and deplorable state for poor mortals to be possess with: 'Tis the height of Lucifer's Pride. Therefore 'tis upon this account that we sometimes expose their failings, to shew them their sins; for there is no other way to humble them. But if they would come down upon the level with other mortals, to own themselves sinners, 1 John 1. 8, 9. and pray for pardon: I should then think it a great evil to expose the private failings of any of them.

But as to his thanking God that has taught them otherways than to calumniate people, or publish their Miscarriages; here he further shews himself to be wretchedly false, and that in the very next page before, where he casts a base and lying calumny on our Burlington Magistrates, insinuating that they made men drunk to make them swear falsely. This way of the Quakers to wound People's Reputations, is inhuman and base, in that they do it secretly in the dark (where men have not the opportunity to defend themselves) and then to act the hypocrite in saying, God has taught them otherways.

Lastly, Whereas he banter me for writing ill of some who are long since dead and he hopes at rest with the Lord. But are not the Quakers guilty of this? Yes they have done it with a Vengeance and without any cause too; one instance I will give from W. P's Guide Mistaken, pag. 18 where he defames and dreadfully sentences all the Clergy alive and dead for Ages past. No sort of People (says he) have been so universally, through AGES, the very Bane of Soul and Body, as that abominable Tribe for whom the Theatre of God's most dreadfull Vengeance is reserved to Act their ETERNAL TRAGEDY upon—And we have nothing for them but Woes and Plagues, who have made drunk the Nations, &c. Serious Apology, pag. 156. where he also says, That if they should treat that accursed stock of Hirelings (the Clergy) ten thousand times more sharply, it had been but enough, &c.

Thus after he has Damn'd all the Clergy, not only of the present Age, but through Ages past, and that universally too, in as dreadful words as can be uttered, he is sorry he cannot do it in words ten thousand times worse; for he declares they deserve it, even these Clergymen who many Thousands of them were doubtless at rest with God long before W. P. or his Quakerism was born into the world. And yet these Quakers will make demure mouths at us, and tell us 'tis not their way, their God has taught them other ways; yea, even this self same W. P. in his Reas. against Rail, pag. 163 declares, That he would not for more worlds, than there are stars in the firmament, so violate the Laws of Charity, as to speak ill of the deceased; no, not their deceased Opposers. And thus they shew us what a lying God they are taught by.

Therefore I must now say to this Bomb-Searcher, C. P. as their own Prophet E. Burroughs says to his Adversary in pag. 148. of his works, “And as to the rest of thy book, which I have not meddled with, thus much I say of it, I suppose you will confess, it was given forth by one Spirit, and it is proved, some of it is given forth by a Lying Spirit, then let the Reader judge what the rest can be.”

Thus, to be measured by the Rule of one of their chief Prophets, they must not, they cannot deny; especially it being offered and referred to by one who, I am sure, is their well-wishing Friend,

October 12, 1705.

Postscript

THE learned Robert Barclay, whose Apology the Quakers have revised, amended and re-printed in great Numbers (and given of them to the Nobility, Gentry and Clergy of England, about eight or ten Thousand) as their Standard, instead of the Works of their FOX-Apostle, which I hear they have let fall, after they were upon the Stocks, as if they would (to save whole their Infallibility) silently slip by the grossest of their Blasphemy and Non-sence, and shape it up in a more artificial Trim, as the Proverb says, Older and Wiser.

But yet I must here let them know, that their learned Barclay's Writings afford us sufficient Proof of the Impossibility of Reconciling Quakerism to Christianity. The Author of the Snake, &c. pag. 183, 185. of his second Defence, gives us a notable Instance about his confounding Justification and Sanctification, making them both to be one, and performed within men; whereas Christianity makes them to be different things: Justification being wrought by Christ in his own Person, wholly without us, and but once performed; but Sanctification is the Work of Christ by his holy Spirit in our hearts, and daily to be renewed.

I shall here give you another Instance from the said R. B's Works, and wou'd have the Quakers try their Wits to see if they can reconcile the same.

R. B. pag. 895. of his Works, affirms, "That the Historical Faith and Knowledge of Christ is not commonly given to the Quakers, or to be expected by them or any others, by the Spirit, but by the Scriptures."

But in contradiction to this, p. 48. he affirms, "That the Spirit teaches every true Christian whatsoever is needful for him to know—By this Light of God [in the heart] all true knowledge in spiritual things is revealed." Prop. X.

Then back again, pag. 95, 96: he affirms, "That the Historical knowledge or outward profession of Christ is absolutely necessary to be believed, where God affords the Opportunity of knowing it;—Yea (says he) it were a damnable Unbelief not to believe it, when declared."

Now the first and last of these three Quotations, are Christian, and the middlemost is Quakerism, which together runs thus;

'Tis Damnable Unbelief not to believe the history of Christ, where it may be known.

This historical belief is not given to men by the Spirit,

And yet, The Spirit teaches all true knowledge, and whatever is needful.

This needs no comment, I could shew several suchlike Contradictions and Confusion in R. B's endeavours to mix Quakerism with Christianity, just as Coyners of bad Money mix it with some good Money, to make the bad pass current unsuspected.

There is an instance in page 170 of his Apology, that shews his accomplishment in Quaker-Pride. He there calls the Apostles of our Lord and Saviour by the name of outward Apostles: This is to intimate that they (the Quakers) are inward Apostles, and they always prefer the inward above the outward; for as it sufficed for the Apostles and Elders to fall down and worship before the Throne; so G. F. says, The Quakers are UPON the Throne (as in the Quotations before) Thus while they banter others for pride in wearing Lace and Ribands, they themselves are possest with the most abhorrent Pride of Lucifer.

Lastly, Behold a monstrous clash of Quakerism and Christianity between R. B. and W. P. The one calls it a Damnable Unbelief not to believe the history of Christ, and the other calls it, A deadly Poison to believe it.

But their books are so full of such confused stuff, it would be almost endless work to collect it. Therefore I and others who by the mercy of God have escaped out of this City of confusion, Mystery Babylon, cannot forbear calling others after us; some have done it late, even at the point of death, as Mary the Wife of Mr. Hanlocke of Burlington, daughter of R. B. a Quaker; she on her Death bed bewailed her dark state and condition of being trained up in Quakerism, ignorant of the knowledge and faith of the true Christ, calling on her sisters and Quakers about her, to take warning by her, and not delay to seek after Christ in time. Mr. T. Revell, his wife, and those about her, not Quakers, will testify that this dying woman uttered those and the like words, with an affecting zeal; testifying a return of God's great love in her heart before she departed. Therefore let those people know that 'tis not the exchanging the life of a Publican for an outside Holiness, while the inside is full of such rottenness in Faith and Principles, that will stand them in stead on the day of account.

An Additional Postscript

SINCE the former part went to the Press, I met with the Quaker two-handed Almanack for the Year 1706, by J. Taylor and C. Pusey.

As to J. T. he in his Almanack, 1705 endeavour'd by bantering Scoffs &c. to ridicule me. To which I return'd a short (not uncivil) answer; only a mistake happen'd, where I charge him with saying One third of the Sun will be dark, and it shou'd be said untrue in fact, yet I'm sorry it happen'd, for truly 'twas no design, but an oversight in transcribing. But my small touch of an answer mightily raises his Quaker-zeal against me, so that he not only renders me A Stupid Dunce and Ignoramus, but also An Unparalleled Plagiary, impudent Filcher, impudent Lyar, uncivilly Impudent, base Insinuator, lazy Animal, insipid Animal, A Forehead hard enough to give the Lye to all Mankind, vile Reflector, poor stupid Creature, and Rhadamanthus or Judge of Hell, &c.

(Out one-fourth of a line) illegible

Now I think none dare say of this Fury, that it proceeds of Good Will, therefore I shall at present give him no other answer but only send him back the two last lines in the Month of February of his own Almanack, where he himself tells us his dwelling-place, in these words;

*Where Good Will's wanting, there's a kind of Hell,
There Men, so unlike Men, so Brutish dwell.*

As to Caleb Pusey, he has only printed his old stuff over again, the very same which was in his last year's Almanack, word for word (to which I have formerly made Reply) and has added nothing new but an Advertisement, wherein he (as common Strumpets call honest Women Whore) cryes out of Abuses and black Charges which, he says, they have proved against me: Yes, they have proved them just as I have before shewed, by Lying & Sham-Answers, on purpose to deceive. And as I have before noted, Their chiefest Preachers are the greatest Deceivers; yea, those who write not, as well as those who write. As for Instance, John Saltkill, a Preacher of Renown, lately come from England, who, when he was in this Country before, being at the house of Sam. Carpenter in Philadelphia, with some other Quakers, took occasion to speak of the printed Sheet called, G. Keith's broad Sheet of about 50 blasphemous and Anti-Christian Quotations, taken from their Friends' books, of which he the said J. Saltkill said, That there was not one Quotation in G. K's broad Sheet, but what Friends might safely stand by and justify. And yet this man with his tongue as smooth as Oyl, and a bewitching Tone, deceives the People, by pretences to Christianity contrary to his own faith. Note, This Passage was told me by a Quaker then and there present, who obliged me not to tell his Name. And I would be just to him and all men; for I am not ignorant of their punishment to such as tell Tales out of School; tho' 'tis nothing but the same Jesuitisim as runs parallel with their whole Works, as I have sufficiently shewed.

Again, T. Chalkly, who is so wily a Preacher, that he makes some that are not Quakers think him to be better than most of 'em, I have his Letter that he writ to me at Egg-harbour, wherein he condemns me to hell because I had caution'd the People at Egg-harbour against believing that the Light within all men was sufficient to Salvation without any other means. His words are these, By the Light within (says he) we mean nothing but God and Christ; and is not God and Christ sufficient without other means? O Daniel! into what a bottomless pit art thou fallen!

Behold, Christian Reader, their late serpentine method of wording their matters to deceive; But will not the Quakers say these things are lyes? yes: and indeed I and all men must be lyars, except themselves, if it be as their Prophets teach, viz. That the Quakers are in the Truth, and none but they: see Quakers' Challenge, p. 3. So G. FOX before.

Last of all, I beg the Reader's pardon, if some errors of the Press pass uncorrected, because I live at so great a distance, and have not the convenience of doing it, So nor am I to blame that this was published no sooner, it having been finished by me and sent to the Press several Months since, and has been hindered by other business.
